

THE MARKETING CONSULTANCY THAT BUILDS THE SYSTEMS AN OWNER KEEPS

WE BRING THE CITY TO YOUR DOOR

FIVE POINTS DIGITAL STUDIO · DECATUR, GEORGIA · EST. 2021

About

(A)

Five Points is the marketing consultancy for owner-operators who would rather run the work than chase it.

(B)

Everything we build is yours the day it goes live — the number, the records, the writing behind them.

Contents

The studio

The name	04
What we are	05
Five ways we help	06
Operations, in full	07
What you keep	08

The work

How it works	09
Our promise	10
What stands behind it	11
The work	12
The first call	13

The Name

We took the name for all three: the point everything counts from, five disciplines in one place and the conviction that a business unmistakably itself will bring the city to its door.

Five Points Digital Studio was founded on 5 May 2021 — the fifth day of the fifth month — at the far end of Decatur Street, the road that leaves the intersection heading east.

That is the whole of our trade, and it is still best done on a porch, by the people who live there.

Atlanta began where a railway stopped and grew where five streets met. That intersection is the point every address in the city counts from.

The station beneath it is the one place where every line meets. Whoever you are and wherever you are going, if you need to change direction in this city, you do it here.

And two miles east, the neighbourhood that borrowed its name was made into the most creative corner of the city by independent owners, one door at a time. No brand made it. Independent people made it by being unmistakably themselves, and the city came to them.

THE DISTRICT, ONE DOOR AT A TIME

The first grocery in Atlanta opened there in 1845, the first post office in 1846, the first mayor was elected there in 1848. A block north, Auburn Avenue sets off east — the street John Wesley Dobbs named, and which Fortune in 1956 called the wealthiest Black street in the world.

In 1928 Atlanta raised those streets a storey and a half on viaducts, and the merchants moved upstairs and kept trading on top of their own ground floor. The original storefronts are still down there. This is a city that has always built on what it already had.

FIVE POINTS STATION

A marketing consultancy that builds the systems an owner keeps.

Five disciplines under one roof, AI-first — made for the owner-operator who would rather run the work than chase it.

0 1

Eighty

A marketing consultancy whose systems the owner keeps.

Everything we build is yours the day it goes live: the number, the records, the writing behind them, the accounts in your name.

0 2

Twenty

AI-first, on five pillars. The tools became cheap enough for a two-van company to own outright, and we build with them rather than renting them back to you.

0 3

For whom

Owner-operators with two to twenty on the crew, who still answer the phone some days and buy with their own money. The trades are the first wing of the house, not the whole of it.

Five ways we help

Five pillars, for five points. Every one of them is built for your company and priced on the first call, from your own numbers.

0 1

Operations

The systems that run the business while the owner works — the phone answered at any hour, the lead texted back in a minute, the old list called in your name.

0 2

Development

Your website and the tools behind it, built to be kept. Fast, plain and yours from the day it goes live.

0 3

Creative

Your brand and how it appears everywhere it appears — the mark, the truck, the estimate, the page.

0 4

Market Presence

How the city finds you — the search listing, the pages, the posts and the ads, run so that the phone rings.

0 5

Consulting

The plan. What to do first, what to leave alone, and what it is worth, in your own numbers.

OPERATIONS

THE PHONE IS THE WHOLE BUSINESS.
EVERYTHING ELSE IS DOWNSTREAM OF IT.

Never lose another job you could have won.

A missed call is not a missed call. It is a job that went to whoever picked up first, and you will never see the invoice you did not write.

Most owners already run an unpaid version of this work — the after-hours rotation, the voicemail checked at eleven at night, the family member drafted into dispatch. We build the system that does it properly, in your name, and hand you the keys.

Speed to lead

The web lead or missed call that waits an hour and goes to the next number.

After-hours capture

The two-in-the-morning storm call that hits voicemail and never calls back.

Database activation

The old customers and dead quotes nobody has called since.

THE VAN, THE YARD, THE PHONE

Atlanta, 2026

Everything we build is yours the day it goes live.

Most agencies charge by the month and take the keys with them when the engagement ends.

0 1

The number

The phone line, the text-back number,
the accounts — in your name, not ours.

0 2

The records

Every call, every message, every booking, kept where you can read them.

0 3

The writing

The words the system uses, the pages,
the plan — the whole of it,
handed across.

0 4

The right to leave

Thirty days after it goes live, if you would rather not keep it, we unplug it and refund the setup.

The Owner's Keys

Stop governance whenever you like.

The system keeps running. Nothing switches off, and the number stays yours.

How it works

Five moments. No ceremony, no travel, no surprises at the end.

0 1

The first call

Thirty minutes, no fee, on your operation. You leave with a plain account of where the work is getting lost in your business – whether or not you go on.

0 2

The plan

One page. Two prices, the cost of yes and the cost of no. Nothing you have to be taught to read.

0 3

The build

A short word every week and a link to see the work as it grows.

0 4

The keys

The day it goes live you get everything, in one folder with your name on it.

0 5

The quarterly call

What came back, what changed, what is next. The system is yours; we keep it in good order.

Our promise

Three guarantees, written to the price of each system and named on the plan.

0 1

The Owner's Keys

Everything is yours the day it goes live — the number, the messages, the records, the writing behind them. Stop governance whenever you like and the system keeps running.

0 2

The Recovered Job

If, inside ninety days of going live, the system has not booked at least one job you would otherwise have missed, governance runs free until it does.

0 3

The Walkaway

Thirty days after going live, if you would rather not keep it, we unplug it and refund the setup. The number stays yours.

All three are conditional on the tracking that makes them measurable. None of them is stated as a warranty of revenue.

What stands behind it

Not a pitch. A pattern — the systems themselves, running in the names of the companies that own them.

2021

Founded in Decatur, Georgia, on the fifth day of the fifth month.

Five years of systems that are still running.

5

Organisations on the roll — school districts, universities and a city government among them — and each still runs what was built.

1

Partner on every job. The person you meet on the first call is the person who builds and the person who answers for it.

Never lose another job you could have won.

The promise we make to the trades, where the phone is the whole business.

The work

A body of systems built for owner-operators and the organisations that serve them. Each one still runs in the name of the company that owns it.

CASE STUDY

SPEED TO LEAD · A ROOFING COMPANY IN DEKALB

CASE STUDY

AFTER-HOURS CAPTURE · HVAC, SOUTH METRO

CASE STUDY

DATABASE REACTIVATION · GARAGE DOORS

CASE STUDY

WEBSITE ENGINEERING · A CHURCH IN EAST POINT

CASE STUDY

BRAND IDENTITY · A WINDOW TRADE

Thirty minutes. No fee. On your operation, not ours.

You leave with a plain account of where the work is getting lost in your business — the lead that waits, the call that comes at night, the list nobody calls — whether or not you go on.

If you do, the plan follows on one page with two prices on it: the cost of yes and the cost of no, both in your own numbers.

THE PLAN, ONE PAGE

Book the first call

hello@fivepoints.studio

fivepoints.studio · Decatur, Georgia

+1 470 556 3989

THE KITCHEN TABLE

We bring the city to your door.

Five Points Digital Studio · Decatur, Georgia · fivepoints.studio · hello@fivepoints.studio

CAPABILITIES · 2026