- The house · a home page and six menu pages, built on your own photography and film.
- The estimator · a booking form carrying your pricing, deposit timing, travel and specialty rules.
- The corporate route · a purchase-order flow, the way corporate clients actually buy.
- The proof · the Harris Health celebration and the Commissioner Rodney Ellis service, placed and named.
- The foundation · structured data, crawl files and share images, so Houston finds this kitchen unprompted.
- The portal · a private staff area where your chefs and servers claim open shifts, with pay computed from your own ladder.
- The handover · two rounds of revisions, 30 days of support, training and three months of hosting worth $1,500.

The asset is the website itself, owned outright by the business. Nothing is rented and no outside company holds the keys.
